THERAPEUTIC K-12 SCHOOL

Educational Standards

St. Dominic's School follows all New York State standards. St. Dominic's School is approved to serve children from grades K–12 in classes with a student/teacher ratio of 8:1:1. We also offer a high school program for students on an Individualized Education Program (IEP) track that is based on vocational development and independent living skills.

K-12

St. Dominic's School is an 853 school that serves a diverse population of students from grades K-12 with social-emotional needs, neurological impairments, and learning disabilities.

St. Dominic's School is certified by the New York State Education Department to serve students with primary disabilities such as Speech and Language Impairments, Emotional Disturbance, Autistic Spectrum Disorder, Other Health Impairments, Multiple Disability, Learning Disability, and Intellectual Disability.

St. Dominic's School student body is drawn from Rockland, Orange, and Westchester Counties, and New York City. The school provides an 8:1:1 ratio – one teacher and one teaching assistant to eight students.

St. Dominic's School provides a therapeutic milieu that emphasizes safety, structure, and clarity of behavioral expectations. Our staff employs a pro-active approach to anticipate and plan for our students' needs.

Mission Statement

To meet the academic and social-emotional needs of the children in our care by providing a therapeutic learning environment, which will enable them to develop and maximize their full potential. Through the integration of multidisciplinary services and partnerships with families, St. Dominic's School responds to our students' needs with commitment, understanding, and guidance.
